Legislation Will Not Necessarily Create Large Division. Meetings to be Held Manning States

Coleman School Board have received letters from Mr. Aalborg, Minister of Education and Premier E. Manning, in regard to the proposed large division. In Mr. Manning's letter, which appears below, it is given to understand that the passing of legislation will not necessarily create the division. Public meetings throughout the Pass are scheduled to be held following the present session of legislature.

Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Mrs. Goulding:

I wish to acknowledge your letter of February 12 in reference to the possible establishment of a school division in the Crownest Pass area, and to the petition recently forwarded to the Minister of Education.

Your board is aware that the Co-terminous Boundaries Commission recommended the establishment of the division as being in the general interest of the Pass area, and for that reason the matter is under serious consideration. It is probable that legislation will be considered at the present session of the Legislature making the establishment possible though not in itself creating the division.

The Minister of Education has agreed that he should enter into further discussions in the Crownest Pass before action is taken and will no doubt be in consultation with your board.

Yours very truly,
E. Manning,
Premier.

Edmonton, February 24, 1964.

Dear Mrs. Goulding:

I have received your registered letter of February 9, 1964 enclosing a petition signed by 1,075 electors of your district, requesting that they be permitted to vote for or against the inclusion of the district in the proposed School Division in the Crownest Pass area.

Under the circumstances prevailing in this area there is no provision in The School Act for a vote of the kind requested. We are still hopeful, however, that your Board and ratepayers can be persuaded it will be to the advantage of Coleman, as well as Frank, Bellevue-Hillcrest, Blairmore and Passburg to establish a new School Division comprising all of these districts.

In order that ratepayers of these districts may have every opportunity to receive all available information regarding the proposed Division and to thoroughly discuss the whole matter, we shall endeavor to arrange for a public meeting or meetings to be attended by the Deputy Minister of Education, Dr. W. H. Swift, and myself as soon as possible after the conclusion of the current session of the Legislature.

Dr. Swift will communicate with you further at an early date concerning these arrangements.

Yours sincerely,
A. Aalborg,
Minister

February 25, 1964.

Mrs. Nora Goulding,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Coleman School District,
Box 35.

The school board instructed the secretary to notify the government that Coleman is desirous of holding a public meeting, the time and place to be set by the officials of the department.

Coleman Ladies Win In Lethbridge

The fairer sex spread the word about Coleman's curling abilities when the ladies rink annexed 2nd in the Pease Competition and 4th in the Eaton event at the Lethbridge "Spel. Special credit is due to them for their win when one considers the fact that the rink curled for a 14 hour stretch on the final day.

Personnel of the rink were J. Fields, skip; E. Fraser, 3rd; D. Pow, 2nd; and M. Mossell lead.

Juveniles Win Southern Alberta Championship

Coleman Juveniles won the Southern Alberta title Sunday night by racking up a 23-10 victory over Standard in the two game total goal series. Coleman won the first contest at Strathmore Saturday night 11-5 and the second here Sunday by a 12-5 score. The next contest is slated against Ponoka for the provincial title.

Eye witnesses of the first contest state that the farm club played it for keeps and left the Coleman boys with battle scars. The second contest is reported to have been a lot tamer than the first, but was plenty rough enough for the average fan. Despite the roughness and chippy attitude of the visitors, the Coleman club seemed to score at will and during the last part of the contest merely let the visitors come to them and take advantage of the breaks.

Coleman led the contest 6-1 in the first on goals by Belter (4), Fiewich and Belter. Park, Belter, Tarcon and Fiewich drew assists. Grant scored the singleton for Standard while Coleman had two men short. Penalties, Fiewich and Tarcon of Coleman and E. Jerry twice for Standard.

Parks opened the scoring of the second on an assist from Lathwaite to start Coleman on another scoring spree after alling Frankfort to score while Coleman served a penalty. Belter and Tarcon scored on assists from Tarcon and Belter to close the period at 9-2. The Coleman puck chasers caught the eye of the officials during this period, Wilkie, Tymchyna, Zembiak and Wilkie drawing penalties. Minshaw and Bragg served time for Standard.

Belter notched two more in the third on assists from Tarcon, Fiewich closing the scoring on a solo play to give Coleman 12 goals. Luciak, Nelson and Christensen scored for Standard.

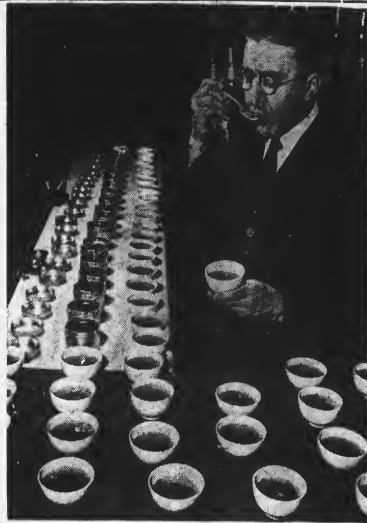

Observations

The Coleman club appeared to be eager to return the hospitality of Saturday night to the visitors and despite their smaller stature soon showed the farm club that rough housing was going to be on an even keel. . . . Goalie Bob Ryan was injured in the contest but continued to play. The accident had local fans worried as goalie Aloff had been injured in the game the night before. . . . A few weeks ago we stated that we figured the admission price was too low for the calibre of hockey On Sunday night it is estimated that between six and seven hundred people attended the game, contributing by silver collection the magnificent total of one hundred and twenty-dollar. The Southern Alberta champs are deserving of better support. . . . Ponoka is reported to have a power house club and the good wishes of the town go with the Evans club in their search for the provincial title.

High School Curling

Nine rinks entered the High School Bonspiel played here last week. Lathwaite and Kluske met in the finals of the consolation event, Lathwaite taking the final game.

Jenkins met Perschweiler Thursday in the final game of the major event, Jenkins taking the win.

Canadians will drink more than 10 billion cups of tea in 1964, authorities claim. More than 45,000,000 pounds of tea will be required to meet this demand, greatly increased now by the rising price of coffee. No tea, however, will enter Canada without the official blessing of one man—Cecil Browne, Canada's official tea taster. Shown in his Ottawa Laboratory tasting a sample of tea from a shipment being held in port pending his approval. Mrs. Kalivoda's Family Hold Surprise Birthday Party

On Saturday evening, February 22, when Mr. and Mrs. L. Kalivoda returned home from the show, they were pleasantly surprised to find their immediate family gathered there, the occasion being Mrs. Kalivoda's birthday.

As they entered everyone sang "Happy Birthday Dear Mother", after which Mrs. Andy Vrakovy, her eldest daughter, presented her with a gold heart locket, diamond centre.

The table was centered with flowers, a beautiful birthday cake and refreshments. Albert Aloise Kryvot, five-year-old grandson from Bellevue entertained with a birthday greeting, "Dear Grandmother" and Betty-Anne Omelusik, a granddaughter from Blairmore sang "Golden Days."

Mrs. Kalivoda came to the Pass with her three daughters from Europe in 1906.

Gets $7,500 For Injuries

For injuries received from a live piece of fireworks at the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede July 12, 1961, Walter Zur of Coleman received $7,500 from the Stampede and the fireworks company according to a judgement roll filed at the courthouse Tuesday.

Counsel for all parties involved appeared Monday before Mr. Justice W. G. Ebert and announced a settlement had been reached.

Results of the settlement filed Tuesday were that Mr. Zur would receive $5,000 from defendants Joseph J. Godin, president and manager of Interstate Fireworks Manufacturing and Display Co., and the fireworks company itself; and a further $2,500 from the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede.

The Calgary Exhibition and Stampede will recover by way of indemnity insurance the $2,500 from Mr. Godin and the Interstate Fireworks.

Mr. Zur then a student from Coleman at the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, had a severely injured hand and the small finger was amputated. He originally claimed through Helman and Barron for special damages of $1,180 and general of $35,000. Fenerty, Fenerty, McGillivray and Robertson represented the defendants.

The incident occurred the evening of July 12 while the fireworks display was in progress. Mr. Zur was walking along 17th Ave. E. near Victoria Park when he noticed that what appeared to be a roll of quarters on the street he stopped, picked it up in his right hand and it exploded.

Mothers' Tea Will Assist Hockey Teams

Mothers of the Juvenile and Midget Hockey teams gathered at the home of Mrs. N. Goulding Thursday night to make arrangements for a Pantry table to raise funds for the clubs and enable them to continue in the playoffs.

The event will be held from 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 20 in Parks Store. An added campaign will be a raffle on an electric kettle, the draw to be made on Easter Monday, April 19.

SCHOOL BOARD HEARS ESTIMATE OF NEEDS FOR COMING YEAR

In their first meeting since the election, Coleman school board heard a complete word picture of the demands that will be placed on local schools next year. The report shown by Principal Allen showed that an extra teacher will be needed and auditorium used as a classroom. Figures as shown by Mr. Allen in his remarks appear below.

At the Wednesday night meeting Mel Cornett and D. Holly took their oath of office, and chairman Cornett appointed the following committees.

Secretary, N. Goulding; Finance, Trustees Holly and Penny; Works and Port, Clarke and Bayon; Fire Comm., Clarke and Bayon.

The first named will serve as chairman.

In regular business it was decided that another three rooms will be equipped with fluorescent lights, thus completing all rooms in both schools with the exception of the auditorium.

A letter was received from the Willow Drive Community Association saying that they had circulated the petition and stated that they feel that should Coleman be included in a division, their I.D. should have representation on the board.

The Association also asked for the service of a school bus, especially for the winter months. They feel that when children miss school due to severe weather, it is neither fair to the students or the teachers.

The board notified the association that they cannot see their way clear to provide a bus at this time.

Mr. Allen's report showed attendance at 640 with an average attendance at 95.8%.

OIL FLOWS IN MANITOBA'S FIRST FIELD PIPE LINE

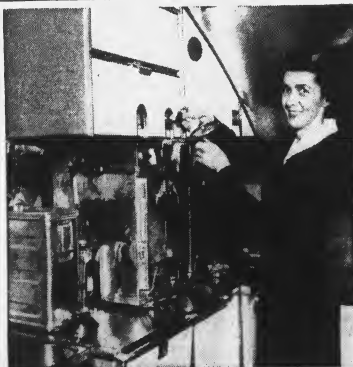

January 27th was an important day for Virden and for Manitoba for on that day oil began flowing through the province's first oil field pipe line. Although bitterly cold that day a group of oil company officials and representatives of the town and province gathered at California Standard Provincial Battery No. 2-12, near the home of

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Williams, to see J. G. Cowan, deputy minister of Manitoba's Department of Mines and Natural Resources, turn a valve which started the oil flowing through the $250,000 project. Below are pictures taken during the operation of turning the valves and those in attendance:

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Awakening

By R. K. Kent

BILL watched Lolly walk across the dance floor. She looked soft and pink as her sweater. Her eyes always reminded him of flowers. Her hair was silky and it would feel smooth if he stroked it. But she should live so long! Why couldn't she let him alone? She was coming right toward him. She'd want him to dance, and he'd smell that sweet perfume. If the floor was crowded she'd dance close and he'd have to hold her tight. Well, he just wouldn't dance with her. His feet hurt. He was tired. And he didn't want to bring her to this dance in the first place.

He'd like to go home, but maybe he'd better dance. If he went home now, mom'd get fussy and think he was sick. She'd make him rest every night. Growing boy stuff. Mom had queer ideas anyway. The very day Lolly moved in next door, mom said,

Funny and Otherwise

Two piano movers knocked on the door. A meek-looking fellow opened it.

"Did you order a piano from the Flat-note Music Shop?" asked one of the movers.

The tenant shook his head. "Not a piano," he corrected, "a flute."

The piano mover studied a slip of paper. "According to this," he grumbled, "you ordered a piano!"

"Very well," said the tenant, nervously. "Move it in. But if your firm makes any more mistakes like that, I'll have to deal elsewhere."

He was attending a meeting of the Hesperock Club. Suddenly the door opened. His wife sailed in, grabbed him by the collar, shook him until his teeth rattled, and exclaimed: "What are you doing here? You're not hesperock!"

Aboard ship a magician was entertaining the guests—all except a parrot perched on his stand. Everything, including a pigeon that was made to disappear, was greeted with a shout of "Faker!" from the bird.

All of a sudden an explosion destroyed the ship, and the parrot landed in a raft occupied by the magician. For two days it sat and stared at the man, then finally said: "All right, you win! What did you do with the ship?"

"I suppose they ask a lot for the rent of a house like this?"

"Aye, they asked me seven times last week."

"An enemy should be attacked by his own weapons."

"Did you ever try biting a mad dog?"

"Yes, old boy, everything in my household goes like clockwork."

"On tick?"

"May I see you home after the dance, Miss Smith?"

"Not likely. How about taking me to a restaurant?"

Mrs. Sharpe: "My husband has changed a lot since our marriage. I made up my mind about that. He eats out of my hand now."

Mrs. Brown: "Really? It must save you a lot of washing up!"

The barometer became acrimonious in his cross-examination, but the little woman in the witness-box remained calm.

Eventually the barometer said: "You say you had no education, but you answered my questions smartly enough."

Replied the witness: "You don't have to be a scholar to answer silly questions."

An indignant man was shown into a solicitor's office. "Look here," he burst out, "you've charged me for two consultations on the fifth of last month, and I was only here once!"

"The fifth of last month," said the solicitor, smoothly. "That was on a Friday, and if I remember correctly, it was a very wet day."

"It was," answered the client.

"Well, after you had gone you came back to ask if you had left your umbrella here."

Life Of Famous Negro Cowboy Recalled By Alberta Writer

An article in a recent issue of the Vulcan, Alta., Advocate written by W. Bruce Marsden, gives the life story of John Ware, one of the finest horsemen and sportsmen that southern Alberta can recall. For ten years John Ware rode for the Bar U before taking up a ranch of his own in the Millerville district.

His name is still recalled with respect and regard by the dwindling number of pioneers of the eighties still living in these parts.

According to Mr. Marsden's story John Ware was born in Fort Worth, Texas, the hub of the cattle industry. As a lad he handled colts for a racing stable, laying the groundwork for his reputation as a fine horseman. But the new and opening up in the northwest States attracted him, and while still in early manhood, he joined a herd being made up in Texas to drive overland to Oregon. Many ranches were opening up in Oregon, and a drifting cowboy usually found work. And wherever he went Ware won new laurels as a rider.

He crossed to the new land of Alberta, and was taken on as a hand by the Bar U, established in the early eighties. Tom Lynch was the foreman of the Bar U and he needed to collect a number of horses which had been bought by the company in Oregon. He had to have skills right to make the trip, and as he looked over possible material, his eye fell on the young colored cowboy, Ware, who seemed anxious to join the drive. Not knowing his was under test, Ware was given an outlaw horse to ride under saddle. The skill with which this horse was handled brought the coveted trip to Oregon to the young cowboy, and the horse was trained by the picked crew across the mountains and up to the Bar U. The late Fred Simpson was manager of the ranch at that time.

The first Bar U roundup was in 1883 and recalled those early days written by the late Fred Simpson and others gave John Ware his place of honor as one of the best riders, respected by all who forked a bronc, a fine athlete and loyal friend. Every outliner has a special note of regard in his voice when he speaks of Nigger John, and tales of his superb horsemanship are legion.

The early nineties John Ware left the Bar U and started up a ranch of his own on Sheep Creek west of Okotoks. His marriage took place soon after, and the children were Janet, Nettie, Bob, Willis, Mildred and Arthur. Willie and Arthur enlisted with the Canadian Army, and Willie died in Keith Sanatorium as a result of neuritis. Bob and Arthur now are with the railway as porters. Nettie and Mildred live with their uncle on a farm near Vulcan.

Round 1900, John Ware and family moved north of Brooks to take up ranching and the coulee where their home was located is still called Ware coulee. Early in 1905 Mrs. Ware died and in the same year John Ware was killed when his horse stumbled in a halder hole and fell on him. It was a strange death for a man who had ridden scores of untamed horses with injury.

It will be recalled that the Ware family won special mention when they attended the George Lane

Memorial park dedication at High River. Nettie, Mildred and Bob were present. At that time John Ware's stock saddle, spurs and 44 six-shooter were on display as an heirloom of one of the great cowboys of the West. These have since been turned over to the city of Calgary museum as one of the relics of the early days—High River Times.

"WHITE STUFF" BEFUDDLES COAST DRIVERS, BUT NO PROBLEM FOR NORTHERNER

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. — Lessons learned in the Peace River Country were applied by one Grande Prairie man in a recent visit to Vancouver.

C. L. McNair, back from a trip to the West Coast and California, passed through Vancouver at the time of the "big snow."

With the snow grip tires he uses throughout the winter in the north, he zoomed past a mile-long line of traffic floundering helplessly in the record-breaking snow in the coast city.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by lazy kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. With the Legislature

The Alberta legislature swung into the throne speech debate at the legislative buildings in Edmonton this week with indications pointing to a session that will last about six weeks.

The second session of the province's 12th legislature was opened last week by Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen, who read the Speech from the Throne following traditionally colorful opening ceremonies set off by a 15-gun salute.

About 400 persons attended the house opening, including a host of dignitaries on hand for the event. However, there were some empty seats on the floor where the main guests sat alongside members of the legislature. Both the public gallery and the Speaker's gallery were crowded, and the press gallery was occupied by reporters from newspapers, radio stations and news agencies.

The 51 Social Credit members of the 61-seat house, led by Premier E. C. Manning, occupied rows of desks to the right of the Speaker, Peter Dawson, member for Little Bow. The strong hold the government has on the house was illustrated by the one row of Opposition members, who totalled only nine. However, there will be one desk added to that row next week when W. J. C. Kirby, Progressive Conservative takes his seat as the result of his election in the February 15 Red Deer by-election.

The government's determination to go ahead with export of natural gas was evident in the throne speech, which laid out plans for the formation of a privately owned company to build and operate a natural gas gathering system in Alberta. The speech said the system would gather gas to be turned into the export line which will originate at Princess, Alta. Although the provincial conservation board has not yet approved gas export, the throne speech, written by the government, said the house would be asked to approve legislation setting up the gas-gathering company. There was no indication as to who would finance the new company, but it will not be a crown company.

Another item in the throne speech dealt with a promise to increase financial aid for municipalities and rural electrification. Municipal spokesmen have so far had little comment on the promise of further municipal aid, although they have expressed hope that it will be big enough to give municipalities some help in getting out of their serious financial problem.

Other highlights of the throne speech were plans to establish a royal commission to investigate metropolitan government for Edmonton and Calgary, more severe penalties for driving infractions, and extension of driver testing stations to all parts of Alberta, special attention to pollution of Alberta rivers, an agreement with the federal government for treatment and rehabilitation of mentally and physically disabled persons, introduction of measures to alleviate the teacher shortage, establishment of an Alberta bureau, and amendments to the Alberta Labor Act, the Municipal Districts Act, and the Assessment Act.

Proposals dealing with the teacher shortage may become the most controversial subject of the current session. The nature of the proposals was not disclosed, but it is believed that Education Minister A. O. Aalberg will ask the house to allow school graduates to become teachers after a short course of six weeks. Associations of school trustees and teachers are strongly opposed to the plan, claiming that it will lower teaching standards.

The throne speech debate opened with addresses by Raymond Elseron (S.C. St. Paul) and Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson (S.C. Medicine Hat). Liberal Leader J. Harper Prowse was the first opposition speaker.

Problems of the education system, Alberta's teacher shortage and school construction shaped up this week as one of the major issues facing the provincial legislature after the house agreed to conduct special hearings during the present session.

The house decision to investigate the education issue came on the heels of Education Minister A. O. Aalberg's announcement that the government wants to set up a six-week short course at the University of Alberta to allow high school graduates to become "student teachers".

Harold E. Tanner (Lib. Edmonton) proposed the motion which cleared the way for the investigation, and an amendment brought in by Aalberg directed the legislature's agriculture, colonization, immigration and education committee to investigate and report on matters affecting the shortage of teachers in Alberta, school construction and all matters affecting education.

The committee is comprised of the entire membership of the legislature and it is expected special morning sittings will be held to hear representatives of the Alberta Teachers' Association, the School Trustees' Association, Home and School groups, and other organizations.

The throne speech debate moved along speedily this week after the majority of cabinet ministers and leaders of the opposition parties took their turns in addressing the house.

Opposition Leader, J. Harper Prowse, head of the four-man Liberal bloc, called for the appointment of a Highways Commission to make long-term planning and suggested the use of concrete for main trunk roads to cut down heavy maintenance costs. He said many roads had not been built to stand up over long periods of time and that taxpayers were not getting their money's worth in road construction. Prowse's remarks drew the ire of Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, who said in his address that the Liberal leader's comments were a "discredit" to the province.

OCF leader Elmer Roper urged the government to set up a crown company to build the gathering system which will be set up in connection with gas export. He said, "We are faced with the prospect of having a private monopoly perform a public function," and said the Social Credit government is "handing assured profits" to private capital.

Progressive Conservative house leader, J. Ferry Pate, said that although his party had gone on record favoring more liquor outlets, he personally favored the banning of mixed drinking throughout the entire province.

Industries and labor minister Norman Willmore, making his first address as a cabinet minister, said that Alberta has the best labor record of any province in Canada and credited "healthy relations" between labor and management for the fact that there was only one strike in the province last year.

The throne speech debate is expected to be concluded by the middle of March, when Premier E. C. Manning will hand down his budget for the coming fiscal year. Political observers expect the budget to call for expenditures of about $185,000,000, an all-time record.

Completion of the budget debate will be followed by a study of the estimates, possibly the most important phase of the entire session. All members of the house will have an opportunity to give close scrutiny to government expenditures as they go over the estimates item by item.

Errors - Lots of Them!

The editor of a small town weekly was severely criticized because of an error appearing in his paper, and in the next issue he had this to say about it:

"Yes, we know there were some errors in last week's paper. We will further agree that there were some errors in the issue of the week before, but before bawling us out too unmercifully about it, we want to call your attention to these facts:

Mrs. Ford Laid To Rest

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Ford were conducted from Culham's Funeral home last Monday. Padre Moss officiating. Members of the Pythian Sister Lodge performed the service.

Palbearers were: H. Garner, W. Nelson, J. Glendinning, J. Allan Sr., D. Gillespie and E. Hull. Mrs. Ford was one of the old timers of Coleman, her late husband having served as one of the earlier policemen here and town clerk for a number of years.

In an ordinary newspaper column there are 10,000 letters, and there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter, making 70,000 chances to make errors and several million chances for transpositions. There are 72 columns in this paper, so you can readily see the chances for mistakes. Did you know that in the sentence 'to be or not to be', by transpositions alone, 2,759,022 errors can be made? Now aren't you sorry you got mad about that little mistake last week?"

Newlyweds To Live At Ladner After Trip

White chrysanthemums mingled with pink carnations and blue lilies to create an attractive floral setting in Chown Memorial Church for the wedding January 26, when Dorothy Semper became the bride of Donald Hirst at a service conducted by Rev. G. S. Packham.

The bride's daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Semper and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hirst.

A complement to the dark-haired bride was her gown of Windsor blue tulle with full skirt and jacket to match.

Harmonizing was her blue feathered cloth hat and the bride carried a bouquet of deep pink roses and white acacias.

Miss Margaret Hannah was maid of honor in a beige lace frock over pink tulle with matching jacket and pink lace hat. Her colonial bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Mr. W. Whitebread was best man and ushering were Mr. J. McLeod and Mrs. W. Kwok. Soloist was Mrs. C. Richards.

At the reception at the Hollies Mr. Donald White proposed the toast to the bride. For the wedding trip to Washington and Oregon the bride chose to wear a beige tulle with brown accessories and fur jacket. They will make their home at Ladner where the groom is a member of the Vancouver Wireless Station Staff. The groom's parents resided in Coleman from 1932 to 1938, the groom being born here.

The Salvation Army Home League Notes

The Salvation Army Home League has been having many varied and interesting meetings of late. On the ninth of February they joined with their husbands and friends for a lovely waffle supper. February 23rd was particularly interesting for them for on that evening George the "Singer Man" paid a visit to their league and demonstrated his machines. With him he had one of singers latest machines which caught the eye of all the ladies. The following Tuesday upon which the local Home League meets it was their monthly spiritual night for the Home League is not only a sewing circle but a means whereby many of to-days women are drawn close to God who otherwise would never hear. For this meeting the officers were able to have the service of a returned missionary from Nigeria, Miss Dickson from The Sudan Interior Mission, now in Calgary. Miss Dickson gave a very pointed spiritual message to the ladies. Following her message she enlightened those there of the circumstances which missionaries had to go through in Africa. Miss Dickson pointed out very emphatically the need to-day for more missionaries in these parts as well as home missionaries.

Following the meeting over a cup of tea and some lunch the ladies made some plans for the future. Near the end of this month they have another demonstrator coming to talk to them. Further plans are still being discussed.

All ladies who are interested in this type of meeting where they can learn and help others as well as grow spiritually and thereby perhaps bring the family back to church and God are heartily welcomed to attend every Tuesday at eight p.m.

Our READERS Say

Following is a copy of a letter sent to Mr. W. Kovach, M.L.A. We believe this matter to be of vital importance to all Albertans and request that your organization support our views by contacting Mr. Kovach, objecting to the rumored six weeks' training course for teachers.

Bellevue, Alta.
February 18, 1964.
Mr. Kovach, M.L.A.
Legislative Buildings,
Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Kovach:
The Crows' Nest Pass Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association strongly object to the rumored six weeks' training course for teachers.

Teaching is the basic profession. Only well trained and educated and professional teachers should be allowed in the profession.

The proposed six weeks' course will not provide this type of teacher.

Some candidates will not have achieved an educational standard required for successful teachers. Any student now in grade twelve will be eligible. This implies that these potential candidates can become teachers after six weeks of training whether they pass their courses or not. Also not all students in grade twelve are taking a complete grade twelve course. Many may be taking one or two grade twelve subjects while completing grade ten and eleven. Educationally, these students are not ready to be teachers.

Many of these students are emotionally immature. How can they, during a six week course, be given the background in subject matter and psychology to meet the many and varied classroom situations which would confront them?

The pupil will be the first to suffer both educationally and emotionally - emotionally because of insecurity caused by poor training and also by the lack of understanding by an unskilled teacher.

The trainees will also be victims of this training scheme. Will they be proficient and happy in their ability to manage skillfully a classroom or will they become frustrated and helpless by their lack of ability?

The prestige of Alberta will also suffer. Alberta's educational standards have been under recent criticism. Will such a training program help to erase the criticism or will it justify this criticism in the future?

The Honorable Minister of Education in his New Year's greeting to the A.T.A. states, "Now as always the prestige and status accorded teachers depends upon the calibre of service rendered." We agree. We urge that the present prestige and status of our teachers be not jeopardized by the rumored proposal.

We request that you use your influence in preventing this proposed legislation.

Yours respectfully,
Crows' Nest Pass Local
of the A.T.A.

Eric Price,
President.

HARVEST-TIME IN THE PULPWOOD FOREST

Deep in the forests, the annual harvest of Canada's valuable pulpwood crop has already begun. Men are felling trees, sawing them into four-foot logs and the trucks and sleighs are hauling them to frozen lakes and rivers to await the spring thaw. In accordance with approved cutting plans men like veteran logger Joe Cote, known in the pulpwood circles as a "dump boss", see that the logs are set on the ice so they will get away to a fast start at spring break-up time. Joe is one of the large army of men now harvesting pulpwood for its ultimate journey to the mill where it will be made into pulp and paper, the nation's chief export—photos by Malak, Ottawa.

Fernie Wins Contest

Fernie Rangers exploded in the third period to take a 4-3 victory from the Grands in the first of two games. The contest was ragged throughout, both clubs failing to back check or put too much drive into it until the final period.

Both clubs tallied once in the opening session. Kryczka from Soroff for Coleman at 11:30 and Pauls for Fernie at 12:15. Marasco of Fernie and Siska of Coleman drew penalties.

Pauls from Bossio, and Ashmore from Caravetta. Ashmore, of Fernie and Tomlins of Coleman drew penalties.

Juveniles Take Lead

By Walt Tymchyna and Tony Zembiak

Coleman Juveniles took the opening game of the Southern Alberta Championship in the roughest contest that they experienced this year. They however were determined to win this game for their well liked coach, Jimmie Evans. Coleman won the contest 11-5 against a hard skating and fighting Standard crew.

During the first period goalie Dick Aldoff was hit with a hard shot and suffered teeth injuries, being rushed to Calgary by J.R. Hill to have them attended to. Jim Wilkie was the second to suffer from the rough play, receiving facial injuries. While fighting, Jim got off balance and fell face first. Assisted off the ice, he regained consciousness some time later. Bruno Kuchtyyn suffered two cracked ribs.

Kuchtyyn opened the scoring to beat goalie George Many Guns on an assist from Tarcon, followed by goals by Wilkie from Tymchyna and Belter from Filewich. Penalties to Coleman were awarded Zembiak and Wilkie.

Christenson, Michael Rabbit Carrier and George Many Shots scored for Standard with penalties to Christenson.

Coleman took a three goal lead in the second on goals by Belter from Wilkie, Filewich, and Filewich from Belter. Penalties; Wilkie, Filewich, Tarcon, Kuchtyyn. Serving penalties for Standard were Many Shots, Jerry, Many Shots.

Barb Wire Johnny Seeks Big Game Protection

The accompanying story regarding the opinions of Barb Wire Johnny appeared in a recent issue of the Calgary Herald. Johnny is well known in the Coleman area, coming into town periodically from his cabin in the Kananaskis country to lay in supplies. While in town he can always be relied upon to discuss the topics of interest and is easily recognized by his flowing white beard.

Preservation of wild life in the mountains north of Coleman is the major interest of 74-year-old Johnny Speers of Maycroft, who interviewed James Hartley, M.L.A. at Fort Macleod recently on this subject. He would like to see the provincial government taking ac-

Mr. Speers claims that in the Gap predatory animals have almost cleared out the deer in that area. He said the situation there has been bad for the past 10 years. He points out that from Burnis to the High River watershed, coyotes and cougars have taken heavy toll of both deer and mountain sheep along the east side of the Livingstone Range.

The flood of 1942 destroyed most of the natural food of the coyotes and caused them to go higher in search of sustenance. Consequently they continue their depredations among the mountain sheep.

The worst damage occurred when snow is deep, and the mountain sheep had to plunge through the snow from one ridge to another to feed, while the coyote could travel on the top of the deep snow.

The months of February, March April and May, when the animals are weak and poor and approaching the fawning season is the period that cougars and coyotes taken the worst toll, Mr. Speers insisted.

He holds the opinion that a man should be appointed to bring these predators under control. As many as eight coyotes in a band have been observed in the upper country skirting a herd of range cattle. Recently Fred Burton was seen to bring in two coyotes that he had killed—one a large brush wolf.

Mr. Speers spoke of the beneficial results of setting out of poison in the Cardston area, which had practically cleared out the coyote population. He believes that the same method should be used along the mountains to save the game.

There are few fishermen and hunters who visit the best spots back in the mountains that do not know this oldtimer. Many have visited him at his cabin in the Forest Reserve.

Some visited him when he was living in a cave, with a deer hide hung over its mouth to serve as a door. Some years ago he had a 25-mile trapline, but now resides on his farm on Heath Creek during winter, where he has several pack horses and spends the summers in the Gap.

He seldom shoots a deer, but takes a pleasure in seeing how close he can approach before they detect him.

Arthur Scheer, former provincial brand inspector, knew him when he ran a herd of his own cattle near the Waldron Ranch 50 years ago. He worked for the Waldron for some time, and was a good rider, and even now breaks colts. Happy in his type of life, he is rugged and hard as nails, owes no one a cent and would not change to the comforts of modern life, though he always keeps a battery-powered radio and makes visitors welcome at his cabin.

Johnny Speers is better known to most by the name of "Barb Wire" Johnny. He went to school on Beaver Creek in his youth and remembers the day that Henry "Frenchie" Reviere came into the country.

Some four years ago Mr. Speers was operated on for a back injury but now he claims he's as fit as he ever was. He spent two years in the Peace River country but returned to the south and the mountains he loves. He first came here in 1890 from Warton, Ontario, and in the early days knew Donald Ross, who had a trap line along the mountains.

Interested in the old Lemon Mine, Mr. Speers claims that it will only be found by following the color of the creek, which he believes is in the High River watershed.

It is a recognized fact that Mr. Speers knows the east slopes of the Rockies better than any man alive, and that visitors to his cabins find him most interesting to talk to. His land is in the old Waldron Hay Coulee on Heath Creek.

High School News

(by Mary Wilson)

The hum of student activity has again entered the Coleman Senior High School. Instead of presenting the annual Operetta, which incidentally wasn't presented last year, the students are busily preparing for the night of plays which they will present to you the public on March 18 and 19.

The program will consist of three one-act plays: "Shock of His Life" comedy "The Farmer's Daughter" an old fashioned melodrama. "No Greater Love" a drama I'm sure that during the week at least one student from the High School will call at your home with tickets to the event. It would be very encouraging to our young amateur artists to have a packed house both nights—it all depends on you.

It's wonderful to see such a large number of students indulging in this extra-curricular activity with full school spirit, and I hope that they will continue to do so in the future.

Research Lab To Aid Coal Industry

Premier Manning said Friday night the Alberta government is convinced that a long-range remedy for the province's ailing coal industry must be sought in fields other than use of coal in its natural state.

To this end, the premier said in his budget address to the Alberta legislature, the government hopes to provide a research laboratory for the Alberta Research Council. It will have special pilot-plant facilities for coal research.

The legislature will be asked to approve an appropriation of $400,000 to cover initial construction in the coming year.

Mr. Manning said the federal government has agreed to help with staff if Alberta provides the building.

He noted that Alberta coal production last year dropped 1,277,049 tons to 5,917,433 tons. Mr. Manning said the government has assured the industry of its full support in a renewed effort to increase sale of Alberta coal in eastern markets.

Active support has been promised by the Ontario government and the federal mines department.

Early-Day Alberta Rancher And Cowboy Used Artistry In Branding Cattle

The artistic instinct of the early-day Alberta rancher and cowboy found a natural outlet in cattle brands. The first brand book was started in Alberta in 1880 and early issues abound with crude markings depicting hats, keys, bells, keyholes, spurs, revolvers, boots, steer heads and practically everything that was a part of the life of a cowboy.

The early brand had drawbacks. The fancy curves and loops often were blotched or marred in the branding operations; and the choice of designs would not be large enough to satisfy the 28,000 registered brand owners of today.

The fancy brand was eliminated in the 1890's, but persons who had registered their brands before that date were permitted to retain their original designs. So, the modern brand still carries some of the old brands of the early cattle barons and pioneers. There is the "Bar Diamond" of the early cattle barons and pioneers. There is the "Bar Diamond" of the McIntyre Ranching Co. Ltd. of Lethbridge; the "Reverse NL" of P.

Morely on the Stony Indian Reserve where he was employed as farm instructor. The second brand still in existence is the "Circle L" registered by Charles Lyndon in 1881. This blundered Irish rancher settled on Meadow Creek, west of Claresholm.

The first brand officially recorded in Alberta was the "71" filed by Supts. P. E. Neale and S. B. Steele of the Northwest Mounted Police detachment at Fort Macleod. Registered on Jan. 28, 1880, it was followed by a string of other registrations made by early Alberta pioneers.

Ex-policeman Cecil Denney was second with the "CD" brand followed by Ex-Capt. William Winder

Alberta Man Builds House From Bottles

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta.—Details of a unique "glass house" built from 53,000 bottles are contained in a letter received by Cecil Morton, of Grande Prairie.

The house, located on the shore of Kootenay lake, on No. 3 Highway a few miles north of Creston, was built by D. H. Brown, of Saneas, B.C., a friend of Mr. Morton's.

Although only completed last summer, more than ten thousand visitors have been registered at the unusual house. Tourists from England, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Australia and all parts of the United States have been among the visitors.

The house is built of 53,000 embelishing fluid bottles which Mr. Brown accumulated while in the undertaking business. It took two full summers to build.

Shaped in a clover leaf design, measuring 50 by 24 feet, the house contains six rooms, three of them circular in shape.

Landscape, which is not yet complete, includes a stone foundation and stone walls built for flower gardens. Plans call for patios to look down fifty feet into the lake.

for horses, and "Lazy B" for sheep.

A few of the early ranches had some intricate brands, although the majority of the fancy types did not appear until the 1890's. Among the first were Walter Hukvale, a rancher near the Oldman River, with the "Fiddle-back" brand. There was also Mac

Go. T. Brand Strong, of the Rebellion brand, with the "Crest" brand; George Emerson, an ex-Hudson's Bay man, with the "P. Ancho" brand; the High River House Ranch with the "Double Bowtie" brand; and Benjamin Hertz with the "Chair" brand.

But whether fancy or plain, the brand was and still is a sure protection for ranchers and farmers. Cattle rustlers have not completely faded into the pages of history and the Department of Agriculture is constantly reminding livestock owners of the risk involved in keeping unbranded animals. Records of cattle, horses, sheep, ranch-raised for animals, and poultry all can be registered with the Brands Office, Edmonton.

Albert Shurtliff with the "H" brand.

Early missionaries soon registered their brands: John McDougall with the "JM"; Samuel Trivett with the "Reversed ST"; and John Maclean with two brands which defy description.

By 1883, the first brand book included the names of such pioneers as James Christie, J. F. Macleod, John Glenn, E. H. and George Maunsell, Andrew Sibbald, William Steele, Joseph Macleod, Thomas Brunsell and Charles Ryan.

Many of these early residents had only a few head of cattle and their importance as ranchers was soon overshadowed by the famous name companies which settled in southern Alberta.

First and foremost was the Cochrane ranch, which started with 7,000 head of cattle driven from Montana in 1881 to their holdings west of Calgary. The big "C" brand on the left side of these animals was a familiar sight in the south during the latter part of the last century.

Other equally notable ranches were the George Lane holdings with the "Diamond O"; F. D. Stinson's "Bar U" ranch; the Alberta Ranch Company with the "Pitchfork" brand; the Maunsell ranch with the "IV" brand; the Conrad ranch from Montana with the "Circle" brand; the New Oxley ranch with the "OX" and "Lazy H" brands; the Waldron ranch with the "WR" brand; the Pat Burns ranch with the "Reverse NL" brand; Senator Dan Riley with the "TL" brand; and Raymond Knight with the "Turning Bar K2".

Then there were famous men who followed the large ranching companies into Alberta. John Ware, a colored cowboy who reputedly could ride anything on four legs, came to Canada with the Quorn ranch and later registered the "19" brand on his own cattle. Fred Burton, who came to Alberta as a horse trader, took a ranch in the Claresholm district and registered the "Quarter R" brand.

Another early rancher who has become famous is Hon. J. J. Bowlen, Lieutenant-Governor of the province. Mr. Bowlen came west in 1902 and at the height of his ranching career had one of the largest horse herds in western Canada. Included among the ranches once owned by the Lieutenant-Governor are the Q ranch, the Raymond Knight ranch, and the Tony Day ranch. Mr. Bowlen's present brand includes a "Bar L" for cattle, "Slanted Reversed R" for horses, and "Lazy B" for sheep.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

JESUS: SAVIOR AND FRIEND

It was as the Savior of Men, the redeemer, that Jesus fulfilled his earthly mission.

But the Gospel reveal on almost every page how the Savior of Men was also teacher, healer and friend.

Jesus was also the great Sympathizer, entering into the joys and sorrows of life, weeping with those who wept, but sharing the joys of a wedding feast.

He freely accepted hospitality and mingled with men, especially with the common people "who heard Him gladly."

We call Him the "Man of Sorrows," and it befits one who bore the world's sins and invited the lowly laden to come to Him for rest.

But back of the sorrow and tragedy of the sin that crucified Him was One who was neither rest nor anguish.

He is not only our Savior, but also our Friend. He called His disciples "Friends," and He is the friend of all who would be His disciples.

Thus continuing Presence and Friendship of Jesus is not a myth nor an emotional illusion.

Nothing is more sure than that thousands have felt, and feel the reality of that spiritual Presence.

It brings into daily life and experience the warmth and tenderness, the faith and hope, the uplifting word that helped and inspired and blessed those who met the Master in His earthly life.

But if one would have that experience of the present Christ today, one must know that Master in His earthly life.

And the one sure way of knowing Christ is by reading the New Testament, and especially the four Gospels.

Passing Drills Pay Off In Hockey

EMPHASIS on passing during the practice scrimmage will help develop skill as well as, of course, the practising of plays. However, if the highest type of skill is to be developed, special drills should be used, at least until the players have developed a fundamental technique, understand the principles involved and have established a correct habit pattern.

Here is a passing drill which will teach you how to receive and pass a puck from both sides. Players, in groups of four form squares as needed. The puck is given to one of the players. At a signal, he passes to his left and the puck is then received and passed around the square. The puck goes from left to right until it has been passed around the square five times. Then, at a signal, the puck is passed from right to left. Then, when it has been around the square five times, another signal indicates that the puck must be passed to the left again. However, this time as each man gets a pass he returns it to the man who passed it to him. He then passes it back again. This time the receiver passes it to the player on his left. This back and forth and then pass to the left pattern is continued around the square five times and at a signal it is done to the right. If the puck gets loose it must be regained quickly as possible and the pass sent on to the man who was to receive the next pass.

Tip For Ski Beginners

If you are just learning to ski, start by learning to walk on the level and climb—don't make the mistake most beginners do and spend your time going down hill, falling at frequent intervals. This may seem fun at first but if you want real skiing fun learn the fundamentals properly. Then, you will be able to branch out and try all sorts of interesting and thrilling stunts—things you cannot do unless you have learned the fundamental secrets of skiing.

Is Walking a Good Fitness Exercise?

Yes, it most certainly is. Fast, active walking, in which you use your arms vigorously as you stride along is considered by experts to be one of the very best fundamental fitness activities. Anyone who does plenty of walking of this type will certainly keep a high level of fundamental fitness. Many expert trainers prescribe a good session of walking every day for athletes of all kinds.
